

Bicycle Rage

Where do you think you're going? This lane is designed for bikes
My car is so much bigger, so I'll drive it where I like
I don't cause pollution mate, it is a way to travel green
But you're holding up the traffic, causing exhaust fumes to increase
My form of travel's safer, I don't knock people down
Says the man who rides through red lights in the middle of the town
I think you're talking rubbish and making up your facts
I may take you seriously if you had to pay road tax
Car drivers are idiots, north, west, east and south
And because you ride a bicycle, I've smacked you in the mouth.

By Lee Haigh

(Influenced by a road rage incident, between a car driver and a cyclist on you tube.)