

Endangered

If I was an Elephant, I'd utilise my size
Creeping up on poachers, and take them by surprise
I'd do a little river dance, upon their tiny heads
They want to take my Ivory. I want to leave them dead

If I was a Whale, I'd utilise the deep
Swimming at the deepest depths, upon the boats I'd creep
Like a thirty ton torpedo I'd ram them from beneath
Hunting us for research, I'd give them bloody grief

If I was a shark, I'd utilise my jaws
Head straight for a culling beach and take them out in scores
Taking a little nibble from the ones that take our fins
If they get in the water, I'll be the one that wins

If I was a tiger, I'd utilise my stripes
Blend in with the back ground and from the hunters hide
And when they least expect it, I'd like to see their face
Just before I bite their heads off then disappear without a trace

If I was a panda, what would I utilise?
Humans aren't my problem, and neither is my size
I'm a vegetarian carnivore, that only eats bamboo
And it's been so long since I last hand sex, I don't know what to do
By Lee Haigh