

Listening to the Sermon of the Priest

Written by: Joan Pacinabo

Wealth without work:

Wealth is useless when you don't shed a sweat on it
When you only get by extort or any illegal activities
Yes, you are happy because you're rich but you're hurting others
By not bringing God in our daily lives we can be like this

Science without humanity:

He said, many scientist or inventor discover or invent something
But they sell it very expensive: they only think nothing but the earnings
He pitied the poor like us...
Still its money is the must.

Knowledge without character:

Being smart or intelligent is not good, he said
When you have a bad attitude
You think people will really like you for that, instead
They will choose the one who's not smart but have good attitude
Cos when you're smart and you live without God in your daily lives
You become arrogant and rude
People will hate you and to take your life they will decide
And when you die, people will be happy and you see no one cried.

Politics without principles:

He said, politics is good
You can form a brotherhood
But without God in it
Graft and corruption you can't prevent
Politics becomes business
And that's rampant here in the PHILIPPINES.
